Airnorth announces additional services between Kununurra and Perth

Airnorth will be adding additional capacity between Perth and Kununurra during the coming dry season with a new Sunday service operating between Kununurra and Perth from mid May until the end of August.

Airnorth's traditional Saturday service recommences on 5th March, providing a direct link between Darwin, Kununurra and Perth, and this will be supplemented by the extra Sunday services that start on 15th May and continue until 28th August.

In addition to providing extra capacity directly into the Kimberley during the peak travel period for the growing leisure market, the extra service will also provide more flexibility and choice for business travellers to and from the region.
